

EPRBiodose Special Issue for IJRB

Please submit your manuscript online to the NEW Taylor and Francis Submission portal:

<https://bit.ly/3R6CPC3> or you may access it from the ScholarOne page,
<https://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/ijrb>

The submitting author will be required to create an account in the Taylor and Francis portal.

The submission guidelines of the International Journal of Radiation Biology can be found here:

<https://bit.ly/3HskRse>

Highlights:

Manuscripts should be double-spaced. Your title page should include title, all author names (first name last name format), affiliations, corresponding author contact and keywords.

Author Names listed on the paper must also be entered into the submission site with valid email addresses.

Abstracts are required for Review Articles and Research Articles. The abstract must appear in the body of the paper (before the Introduction), and should be structured with the following headings: Purpose, Materials & Methods, Results, Conclusion. For Review papers, Purpose and Conclusion is acceptable.

Declaration of Interest must be stated in the body of the manuscript. This is separate from the Acknowledgement section. Please see Author Instructions for details.

References must follow the Taylor & Francis Standard Reference Style: CSE. You can find it in Endnote as "T&F Standard CSE". See Author Instructions for examples or download here

<https://bit.ly/3FoSQPB>

Figures and Tables should appear at the end of the manuscript (after the references) and captions must be included with the corresponding figure/table not separately.

For Special Issues, there is the following submission question:

req Is the manuscript a candidate for a special issue?

Please indicate "EPRBiodose" in the box. This is a very important step so that all accepted papers, will be published together in this issue.

Questions about submission can be sent to Dianne Dixon, Managing Editor, IJRB@Northwestern.edu
